Twenty-fourth Sunday
in Ordinary Time

September 17, 2017

St. Joseph Parish is a community of believers who uphold the teachings of the Gospel and the traditions of the Roman Catholic Church, foster the formation and enrichment of parishioners in spirituality, worship and education, providing a welcoming environment to all. We live Christian lives by praying together, caring for our diverse community, encouraging and sharing of ourselves in service to others.

Dear Parish family,

As we approach this season of Fall, two thoughts for this week:

Let us pray for the people of Texas, Florida and all of those affected by the recent hurricanes as they attempt to rebuild their lives! Let us pray for an end to the storms!

Today at the 10:30 AM Mass we are commissioning 50 adults as catechists here at St. Joseph's. Please pray for them as they can continue to minister and form our young people in the ways of faith and discipleship in Jesus Christ!

Our new website is up and running, and the pages are easy to navigate especially on your mobile devices. Check it out at: stjosephlb.org

Peace, Msgr. Kevin

Faith Direct - As Christ's disciples, we are called to go forth and spread the good news. Our parish's many ministries are examples of an answer to that call and they require not only gifts of time and talent, but also of financial help. Please prayerfully consider electronic donations through Faith Direct. Sign up online at www.faithdirect.net using our church code: CA717. Thank you for support of our parish!

From Deacon Don's desk:

One of the first prayers many of us learn as children is the Our Father. We pray it every time we go to Mass. We pray it when we say the rosary. But like many things that are repetitious, we can recite this beautiful prayer taught to us by Jesus Himself by rote, not thinking about the words we pray and the relationships they imply. The gospel this Sunday is a kind of commentary on one part of the Our Father: "and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors" (Matt 6:12); but it is a commentary with a twist. In the Our Father, God's forgiveness of us is contingent on our forgiving others. In the gospel parable, the servant has already been forgiven his debt to his master, which makes his hard and unforgiving heart toward "one of his fellow servants who owed him a smaller amount" even that much more reprehensible.

Life in the church demands that we forgive one another not only because it is the compassionate thing to do, but because this is how God acts and expects us to act (see the last line of the gospel). It belongs to God's very "being" to forgive, if we are of God then it is also of our very "being" to forgive. The key to understanding this is that we are in relationship with God and with each other. By forgiving, we repair the damage to the relationship and restore dignity both to the forgiver and to the forgiven. This is why counting how many times we forgive--even to the seven that Peter suggests at the beginning of the gospel--misses the point. Jesus' response to Peter is a way of reminding us that God forgives us countless times. Our heavenly Father has shown us the way -- forgive one another "from the heart." As infinite as God's forgiveness is, to receive it is not without a substantial condition. We are to forgive one another as God forgives--from the heart "seventy-seven times." Only forgiveness from the heart is immeasurable. Let us pray the Our Father with deep devotion.

OUR PRAYER: Lord Jesus, help us to receive You in Communion with ever more faith and love. Let us strive to obtain the greatest spiritual benefits possible from each reception of this Blessed Sacrament. Amen

Did You Know? Talk to kids about location sharing dangers - Many popular social media sites offer the ability to tag or share their locations when they post. Depending on the site, this information can be shared with friends, followers, and other people who use the site, regardless of whether they are friends with the user or not. Location sharing is a tool that can be used by predators searching for potential victims. Parents and children need to have open discussions about providing information online, highlighting what is safe to share and when it is safe to do so. As a general rule, widespread location-sharing should be discouraged. For more information about how to help your children understand who can see what they post and share, request a copy of the VIR-TUS© online article "Technology Safety," by emailing jviena@la-archdiocese.org or calling (213) 637-7227.

ESTHER MINISTRY -

End Slavery and Trafficking of Humans and Effect Rescue -

Thank you to all who attended our meeting last Sunday. A special thank you to Margaret Dennis who shared about her trip to Ireland this last June.

Margaret met with religious sisters from different parts of the world who are also fighting the crime of human trafficking. They shared ideas and resources from various agencies. We are also happy to report that the Esther Ministry was given a "shout out" in the recent USCCB human trafficking newsletter. We are working with a contact from USCCB on ideas to help other churches start HT ministries.

Check out the St. Joseph website for an update on our ministry. Just go to <http://www.stjosephlb.org/ministries/esther-ministry>. If you would like to be on our email list for more information on future projects, just email us at estherministry1@gmail.com.
