Letter From Our Pastor

Dear Parish Family:

Welcome to the 29th Sunday in Ordinary Time. This weekend, the universal church celebrates the 100th anniversary of World Mission Sunday. Pope Leo has reminded us that the Church supports almost 1200 missionary territories around the world. Pope Leo himself was a missionary when he served for many years in Peru. If you would like to support the missions, envelopes are in the baskets on the table near the doors of the church.

This past Tuesday, I was surprised as everyone to hear that a malignant tumor located in the interior lobe of the lung was removed from Pope Leo. One of the doctors said that this is the most common type of lung cancer, also with the most favorable prognosis. Further test results will be forthcoming as to the possible spread of the cancer. Then a program of therapy will be pursued. Everyone has been struck by the Popes calm and serene composure. As one on looker said: "Even the Pope is vulnerable." When I personally met Pope Leo at the Vatican last January, I told him that I bring the prayers of the people of Saint Joseph's parish and school to your Holiness. Now, more than ever, the Holy Father needs our prayers.

As I write this, the Dodgers are down two games against Milwaukee. However, they are the Dodgers! Go blue!

Blessings in the week ahead,
Msgr. Kevin

Weekly Scripture

Virtues, Explained!

"It is not easy for man, wounded by sin, to maintain moral balance," we read in the Catechism of the Catholic Church (1811). "Christ's gift of salvation offers us the grace necessary to persevere in the pursuit of the virtues."

Perseverance is unique because without it, we cannot grow in any of the other virtues. If we cannot persevere, we cannot carry the cross. Faith, hope, love, mercy, justice, temperance — these virtues are the fruits of a Christian life, and perseverance is the soil in which they take root.

Like the soil in any garden, it has to be nourished. Perseverance is fed by trials, difficulties, and temptations. "We rejoice in our sufferings," writes St. Paul, "knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not disappoint us" (Romans 5:4-5).

Inspiration of the Week

The Pharisees try to trick Jesus into starting a political revolution. They don't realize he came to start a revolution of the heart, not the state. God's image is stamped on our soul, but still the world tries to claim us. Revolt! You belong to God.

Blessing for World Mission Sunday

O God,
You never cease to call us to Yourself, bless the mission fields where we sow, tend, and reap. Give us your grace and strength as we share Your love with families and friends, strangers and sojourners. Give us the right words, the right inspirations, the right invitations, the right love. Your love, shared.
Amen.

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Matthew
22:15–21

Occasionally, I'll slip into a parish I've never visited before, pick up the bulletin, and find one of my Gospel reflections. My heart usually swells with a bit of affection for my creation. I imprint a bit of myself into my little "literary labors of love." Anyone who has created something — a piece of writing, a garden, a meal, a child — knows that feeling. We love the things into which we put ourselves. We are happy when they return to us.

With this in mind, listen to Jesus' classic line in this Sunday's Gospel: "Then repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God" (Matthew 22:21). He presents this little riddle to deepen the theme from taxes to human beings. A Roman coin bears Caesar's image, so it belongs to Caesar. Therefore, he has a legitimate claim to it. Fair enough. But what belongs to God? What bears His image? Every human being. God has imprinted Himself on every person. Which means everyone — including Caesar — belongs entirely to Him. Jesus, who is God's perfect image, has come to draw everyone back to God.

We can be tempted to imagine that our lives are made up of "things for God" and "things not for God." The good news is that no such division is possible because everything in life is a gift from God to us. Therefore, all is meant to be placed at the service of God's kingdom. He loves everything He has created. We have the privilege of giving it all back to Him.

Thank You All for Your Prayers

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to Monsignor Kevin for his unwavering support, spiritual guidance, and encouragement in bringing Welcome Christ Renews His Parish to St. Joseph Church. His dedication and commitment to this ministry have been a true blessing to our parish community.

Last weekend, we joyfully celebrated the completion of our Seventh Women's Welcome Christ Renews His Parish Retreat at St. Joseph Church.

This beautiful, faith-filled weekend was led by dedicated women of our parish, with Monsignor Kevin serving as our Spiritual Guide. Through prayer, personal testimonies, Scripture, and fellowship, participants were invited to deepen their relationship with Jesus Christ, open their hearts to the Holy Spirit, and experience the joy of spiritual renewal.

A particularly meaningful moment came during the 10:30 AM Sunday Mass, when Monsignor Kevin introduced the retreat participants and team members to the congregation and offered a special blessing upon them. The weekend was a wonderful experience of faith, love, and fellowship for everyone involved, including our retreat participants, Lay Formation Team, and Support Team.

We give thanks to God for the many blessings of this retreat, for the generosity of all who served, and for Monsignor Kevin's continued love and support of this ministry. May the Holy Spirit continue to guide and strengthen our Welcome Christ Renews His Parish community as we grow together in faith and love of Christ.

Catechesis. The Documents of the Second Vatican Council. IV. Constitution Gaudium et Spes. 5. The mission of the Church in the contemporary world (GS, 40-45) (Reading: M 5: 13-16).

Brothers and sisters, good morning and welcome!

Resuming our reflection on the Conciliar Constitution Gaudium et Spes (GS), today we will consider the fourth chapter of the first part, dedicated to the Church's mission in the contemporary world.

First of all, the Council recalls that the Church is not "above" or "beside" the world, but is, as it were, grafted into it. "Mundus reconciliatus Ecclesia", wrote Saint Augustine (Sermon 96): the Church is the world already reconciled with God; we are pilgrims on earth and share in this world's fragility and beauty (cf. GS, 40).

Just as the Son of God was incarnated to give life to the world and to reconcile it with the Father, so the Church dwells in the world as a sign of the incarnation of God, in order to manifest His plan to make us all His children in one great human family. Therefore, the Church journeys through history in the midst of peoples and cultures, and "this involvement in people's lives helps the Church understand ever more clearly that her mission has a historical scope and entails a responsibility for the way in which social relations are built" (Encyclical Letter Magnifica Humanitas, 19).

The first mission of the Church is to help people be attentive to the profound questions of life: those concerning our origin and our destiny, as well as those concerning the meaning of love and suffering (cf. GS, 41). The logic of profit at all costs and the manipulation of information risk exerting undue pressure on people to conform to a lifestyle centred on the consumption of material goods, but our hearts are made to look upwards.

The Council Fathers remind us that the Church's mission is fulfilled also in contributing to the construction of the earthly city. However, her methods and aims are not primarily of a political order; rather, they consist in bearing witness to faith and charity, together with commitment for justice, peace, and fraternity. By worshipping Christ, the Righteous One who died for the unrighteous, the believer cannot accept the oppression of the weak and the poor, nor the unjust structures that perpetuate conditions of dependence and injustice. The social doctrine of the Church guides the actions of Christians, who collaborate with all people of good will in promoting the common good. The Church, therefore, "has no fiercer desire than that in pursuit of the welfare of all she may be able to develop herself freely under any kind of government which grants recognition to the basic rights of person and family, to the demands of the common good" (GS, 42).

To fulfil the Gospel mission effectively, it is necessary for every baptized person to commit to cooperating with the grace of the Holy Spirit, so that their faith may be living and expressed in consistent behaviour. Indeed, as the Council Fathers reiterate, the discrepancy between professed faith and daily life "deserves to be counted among the more serious errors of our age" (GS, 43).

Gaudium et Spes reserves special mention (cf. ibid.) for the mission of the lay faithful who, by virtue of their Baptism, are called to enliven the world with the Christian spirit and the vision of the Gospel. The principal settings for this activity, which may well be described as priestly, are undoubtedly the family and the workplace, but it extends to every sphere of life.

Finally, the Church is always attentive to what is taking place and developing in society (cf GS, 44). It is the task of the whole People of God, especially pastors and theologians, to discern what in the cultures of our time is worthy of consideration, always taking the Word of God and the Tradition of the Church as the supreme criteria for discernment. This requires a balanced mind, free from cultural trends, capable of viewing the world in a positive light whilst remaining steadfast in preserving and presenting the Gospel message in its entirety. Indeed, "it is certainly not by watering down the content or softening the demands that Christianity can be made attractive" (Address to the Plenary Assembly of the Dicastery for Evangelization – Section on Fundamental Questions regarding Evangelization in the World, 28 May 2026).

Dear friends, as she journeys through history, "the Church has a single intention: that God's kingdom may come, and that the salvation of the whole human race may come to pass" (GS, 45). She strives towards this end above all through personal holiness and fraternal love. Saint Paul VI wrote: "Without this mark of holiness, our word will have difficulty in touching the heart of modern man. It risks being vain and sterile" (Apostolic Exhortation Evangelii Nuntiandi, 76). Let us therefore be open to the action of the Holy Spirit, that He may help us to live in holiness and charity, so that the world may believe and hope.

Special Greetings:

I extend a warm welcome to all the English-speaking pilgrims and visitors taking part in today's Audience, especially those from England, Scotland, Ireland, Uganda, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, India, Indonesia, the Philippines, Sri Lanka, Canada and the United States of America. Upon each of you and your families, I invoke the joy and peace of our Lord Jesus Christ. God bless you all!

Summary of the Holy Father's words:

Dear brothers and sisters, we return this morning to our reflection on Gaudium et Spes, considering the Church's mission in the contemporary world. As the Son of God became incarnate to fulfill his redemptive mission, so the Church dwells in the world as a living sign of God's plan to reconcile the world to himself. By discerning the signs of the times through the lens of the Gospel, she carries out this task by helping people respond to the profound questions of life and contributing to society through her witness of faith and charity. To be effective in this mission, the Church depends on every baptized person cooperating with the grace of the Holy Spirit and seeking holiness. The lay faithful, in particular, are called to animate the culture in which they live with a Christian spirit. In our call to build up the Kingdom of God, may we renew our efforts toward personal sanctification, justice and fraternal love, and thus be signs of hope for all people.
